GEAR UP Student and Parent/Family Definitions: Guidelines for GEAR UP Program Services
The U.S. Department of Education discretionary grant program Gaining Early Awareness and Readiness for Undergraduate Programs, or GEAR UP, is designed to increase the number of students from low-income schools who are prepared to enter and succeed in postsecondary education. GEAR UP provides six- or seven-year grants to states and partnerships to provide services to students at high-poverty middle and high schools.

About the College and Career Readiness Evaluation Consortium (CCREC)

Fifteen GEAR UP state grantees have formed a member consortium, the College and Career Readiness Evaluation Consortium, which includes the following states: Arizona, Idaho, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Utah, Washington, Wisconsin, and Wyoming. The purpose of the Consortium is to foster collaboration among its members; demonstrate the impact of GEAR UP across local, state, and national levels of implementation; and build a culture of evidenced-based assessment and decision-making. As part of the Consortium’s member state agreement they have set forth a strategic vision and mission as outlined below.

The strategic vision of the College and Career Readiness Evaluation Consortium is to foster the attainment of the mission, goals, and objectives of the federal discretionary college access program, GEAR UP. High quality research and evaluation will both: a) inform program implementation and administration, and b) demonstrate the program's value-added impact and efficacy.

The strategic mission of the College and Career Readiness Evaluation Consortium is to enhance the administration of GEAR UP projects, consistent with the federal Government Performance and Results Act (GPRA) and Annual Performance Report (APR) guidelines and requirements.

Consortium Partners: Two partners to the state GEAR UP grantees are (1) ACT, a nonprofit organization and provider of the primary assessment tools used by the Consortium states to facilitate common research and evaluation activities, and (2) National Council for Community and Education Partnerships (NCCEP), the U.S. Department of Education-designated training and technical assistance provider for GEAR UP nationally. NCCEP serves as the managing partner for the Consortium.

The Consortium acknowledges the importance of its mission and works to advance the evaluation of a national program and, as such, will engage the interest of selected stakeholders, providing them with information and updates on a regular basis. Key stakeholders include: U.S. Department of Education, GEAR UP grantees, congressional delegates, legislative officials, local and state education agencies, students and families, as well as other college access professionals.

As the Consortium works toward an evaluation of the fifteen state grants, products and best-practices will be provided to the larger GEAR UP community in order to assist GEAR UP grantees nationwide with knowledge that could inform their local evaluations and program implementation. This report includes definitions of GEAR UP student and parent/family service definitions that have been adopted by and will be used to guide the work of the Consortium. These student and parent service definitions can be used to guide other GEAR UP programs in effective evaluation as the GEAR UP community strives to provide consistent data nationally.

In order to best provide an effective evaluation of the GEAR UP program, grantees should ensure that data protocols are consistent and uniform with their national colleagues. Consistent data collection within and across programs is a first step in a robust evaluation that can lead to effective reporting of the program.

While the services outlined in this report are part of the GEAR UP Annual Performance Report (APR), use of these definitions by GEAR UP grantees outside of the Consortium is optional. These definitions are not mandated or endorsed by the U.S. Department of Education. Rather, these definitions have grown out of the College and Career Readiness Evaluation Consortium as a means to more effectively and consistently evaluate the GEAR UP program across fifteen state grants. This is the first opportunity the Consortium has to share products and best practices with the larger GEAR UP community with the goal of facilitating more effective evaluation of the GEAR UP program nationally through common definitions.

The GEAR UP student and family services defined in this document are mandated by the Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA) and reported on annually in the Annual Performance Report (APR) to the U.S. Department of Education. The required and permissible services for the GEAR UP program are outlined in Section 404D of the HEOA can be found here on pp. 3210-3213: http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/PLAW-110publ315/pdf/PLAW-110publ315.pdf

The student and family services definitions provided in this report are intended to be an optional guide that GEAR UP grantees could use in the implementation of their program with the goal of more consistently defining and capturing services that are provided to both cohort and priority students and their families through the GEAR UP program. These service definitions are a model of how to structure data collection around services provided to students and families.

CCREC/NCCEP Partnership

CCREC has partnered with the National Council for Community and Education Partnerships (NCCEP) to advance the Consortium's mission. NCCEP is dedicated to the fundamental principle that every child deserves an equal chance to obtain a high quality college education. NCCEP is a national non-profit, non-partisan organization working to increase access to higher education for economically disadvantaged students. Confident that education paves the way to social equity, NCCEP advances college access through advocacy, training, and research.

To fulfill this mission, NCCEP establishes community-education partnerships, strengthens research-based college access programs, and develops resources to provide educational opportunities for all students.

About the National Council for Community and Education Partnerships (NCCEP)

One of NCCEP’s primary functions is to serve as an intermediary organization for public agencies, private and corporate foundations, and their grantees. Most significant of these efforts is the federally funded GEAR UP initiative for which NCCEP serves as the national technical assistance provider, annual conference convener, and voice in Washington DC. NCCEP works to elevate and encourage replication of GEAR UP’s best practices, and facilitates opportunities for GEAR UP to test program models that hold the promise of increasing student success, graduation rates, and postsecondary enrollment.

GEAR UP programs provide research-based early outreach strategies that include academic supports, college and career exploration, financial literacy and financial aid information, and other relevant strategies.

GEAR UP currently funds 35 state and 98 partnership grants with an average state and partnership grant award of $3.9 million and $1.7 million, respectively. Federal funding for GEAR UP since the program’s inception has totaled over $4.2 billion. More than 550,000 low-income students benefit from GEAR UP’s programs and services.
