Fall 2009

WICHE's Regional Student Exchange Programs

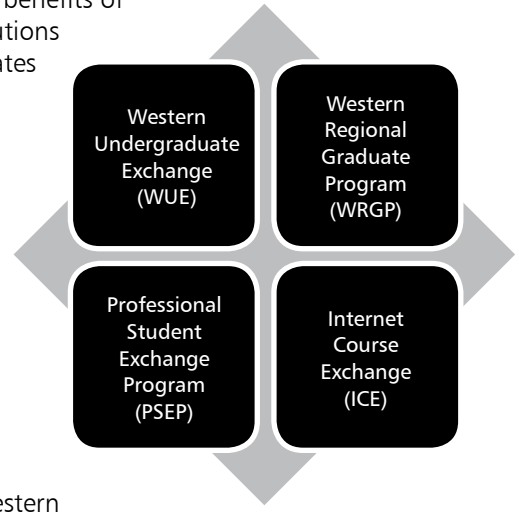
Over 55 years ago, our Western states formed the Western Regional Education Compact and agreed to share higher education resources in the West through the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE). Wise policymakers at that time understood the many benefits of regional student exchange as the West worked to develop an educated workforce. Regional collaboration enables institutions to maximize their resources by filling available capacity and reducing unnecessary duplication of programs. It also facilitates partnerships among institutions to create programs in new workforce areas, such as health information technology. Students and their families continue to benefit from significant tuition savings across a range of institutions and programs.



The map below illustrates how regional education exchange remains a critical tool in growing an educated workforce in the West, where states face very different demographic futures. Many states confront simultaneous enrollment and fiscal pressures. Some high growth states have too many students while others face the opposite problem. Helping students migrate between states that face differing enrollment challenges provides a flexible, state-responsive solution.

Through WICHE's three student exchange programs, nearly 26,000 residents of 15 Western states are enrolled at reduced levels of tuition in a broad spectrum of undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. The Western Undergraduate Exchange (WUE) helped some 24,500 students and their families save $173.4 million dollars in tuition by paying 150% of resident tuition, instead of the full nonresident rate at 145 participating WUE institutions. Five hundred masters, doctorate and graduate certificate students enrolled in programs of study through the Western Regional Graduate Program (WRGP) have saved more than $5 million dollars; they pay only resident tuition, instead of nonresident, in participating programs. Almost 700 students paid significantly reduced tuition while preparing for their professional degree in 10 healthcare professions while enrolled through WICHE's Professional Student Exchange Program (PSEP). Finally, WICHE recently created a network of Western institutions that are partnering to exchange courses via the Internet, through WICHE's next generation of student exchange, called the Internet Course Exchange, or WICHE ICE. More information about all these programs is available at www.wiche.edu/studentExchange.

The Western Undergraduate Exchange (WUE)

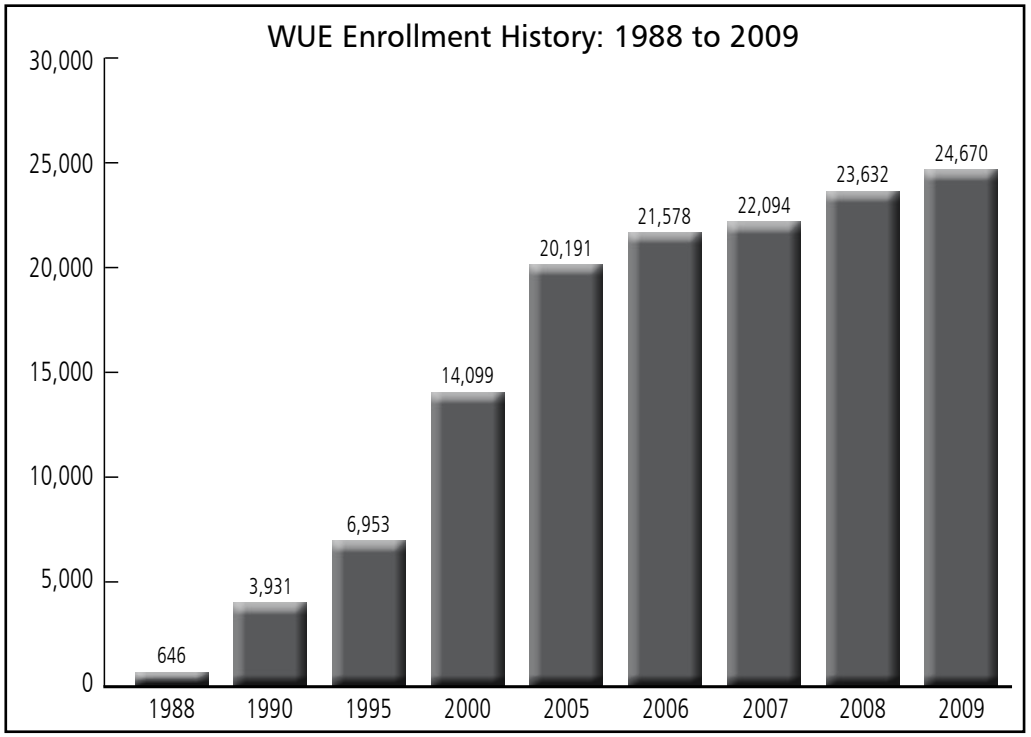
The Western Undergraduate Exchange (WUE) is a regional tuition-reciprocity agreement that enables students from WICHE states to enroll in participating two- and four-year public institutions at 150 percent of the enrolling institution's resident tuition. WUE has been operating for more than 20 years and is the largest program of its kind in the nation. Since the first WUE students were exchanged in 1988, to date, participating residents from WICHE states have benefited from significant savings on more than 273,400 annual tuition bills. And since WICHE began estimating student fiscal savings through WUE in 1999, the program has provided WICHE students and their parents discounts of a remarkable $1.1 billion dollars in tuition savings on nearly 210,000 annual tuition bills. The graph below shows the tremendous growth of the program since its inception in 1988.



Participation in WUE increased by 4.4 percent in 2009-10; 24,670 WUE students saved more than $7,000 on average, and a collective $173.4 million dollars in tuition costs. Table 3 on page 8 of this year's report shows the in and outbound migration by state over the last five years, as well as estimated savings for WUE students and their families.

Students can choose from more than 145 participating WUE institutions, and the network is growing. In fall 2009 Eastern New Mexico University Portales' main campus joined the WUE network. Previously, only its Roswell campus participated. In addition, the number of California WUE institutions has grown significantly over the past five years. In 2004, only one campus enrolled WUE students. Now, nine California State University institutions are enrolling students through WICHE, and additional campuses have expressed interest.

Fall 2009 WUE Enrollment Trends

This fall's WUE headcount demonstrates that WUE students know where the current and future job opportunities are. Their "Top Ten" majors are directly aligned with some of the West's most crucial workforce needs. They are healthcare, the biological and biomedical sciences, engineering, and business.

- Healthcare professions majors that WUE students are studying include: Nursing, the allied health professions (such as physical therapy, occupational therapy, radiology, respiratory therapy, nuclear medical technology, audiology, and clinical laboratory science), dental hygiene, healthcare administration, and healthcare information technology (HIT). Students are also using WUE to complete their undergraduate degrees to advance to the professional level: many are majoring in pre-med, pre-dentistry, pre-pharmacy and pre-veterinary studies.

- Biological and biomedical science majors targeted by WUE students include biochemistry, biotechnology, genetics, microbiology, botany, zoology, marine biology, and more.
- Engineering majors of interest to WUE students run a wide range and include engineering specialties in biomedical, chemical, civil, computer, electrical, mechanical, mining and mineral, nuclear, petroleum, industrial, geological and geophysical, and electrical engineering, as well as others.
- Business, management and marketing majors include: Accounting, business administration and management, finance, hospitality and hotel administration, marketing, human resource management, construction management, and international business, among others.

The remainder of majors at the top of the WUE student's list are in the areas of: education; the social sciences; visual and performing arts; psychology; parks, recreation, leisure and fitness studies, and communication and journalism. Research shows that graduates tend to join the workforce and settle in the region where they studied. It is good to know that through WUE, our states are working to keep our best and brightest in the West.

To learn more about the wide array of programs available at WUE institutions, consult our searchable database located at wue.wiche.edu. For additional details, follow the links to the receiving institutions' WUE profiles and websites.

In addition to the reports contained within this publication, additional CIP code-based Excel spreadsheet reports are available for state higher education offices and enrollment planners of participating WUE institutions. Learn which programs your home state residents seek through WUE, and which programs in your state attract the most WUE students. To request these custom reports, contact our office at 303.541.0214 or info-sep@wiche.edu.

Why Participate in WUE?

WICHE encourages nonparticipating institutions to consider how WUE can help them meet their recruiting and enrollment goals. Institutions, with the guidance of their state governing agencies, have a significant amount of autonomy in the way they can use WUE. Our WUE partner institutions formulate admissions control policies that work best for them and their state workforce, but also benefit enrolling students and their families from elsewhere in the West.

For example, some states set limits on the total number of students admitted in their WUE institutions. Participating institutions choose which programs they wish to make available to WUE students, and under what conditions. In many cases, institutions have opened all of their programs on a space-available basis. In other cases, institutions have excluded some programs or have listed only specific programs that are open to WUE students.

Whether your institution is currently participating in WUE or now considering it, we encourage you to read the "WUE FAQ" posted on the WUE institution interface of our WUE website, as well as the 2005 study of tuition reciprocity programs that explains the policy logic behind the WUE program.

For more information about joining WUE, contact WICHE's director of student exchange at 303.541.0214.
