Our Approach: Relationship between faculty success and student success

Our Values: Aligned with UND's Strategic Plan

- UND LEADS Core Values:

- Learning
 - Encourage a lifelong sense of wonder by providing educational experiences essential for living intellectually curious, personally fulfilling, and socially responsible lives.
- Equity
 - Enhance pathways to higher education and establish supportive learning structures that help all people realize their full potential.
- Affinity
 - Foster a sense of belonging and a campus culture that celebrates the unique ways we connect and contribute to UND.
- Discovery
 - Advance research, creative activity, and scholarship through our spirit of inquiry and our desire to better understand the world around us.
- Service
 - Engage in collaborations that serve the evolving needs of our people, tribal nations, the state of North Dakota, and our global community.

Challenges

- Place
- Change
- Workforce demands
- Political divisiveness and anti-intellectualism
- Remote faculty/staff
- Online students
- Mental health and wellbeing
- Affordability

Conclusion – Group Discussion

1. How can you turn place—your university’s location— into an asset as you address changing student expectations and needs?
2. What opportunities exist for faculty at institutions in rural communities at the different stages of the faculty career? How can you support and encourage those opportunities?
3. How do you plan to continue to improve recruitment and retention? What is the role of place in both causing and addressing those challenges?
4. What is the relationship between student success and faculty success on your campus?
